

Have You Laughed At God

Sarah was afraid, so she lied and said in Genesis 18:15 "I did not laugh." But he said, "Yes, you did laugh."

Sarah couldn't believe God's plan for her life was to have a child. So she laughed at His plan.

She was too old. It had been so long. Could God do this? Would God even use someone like her for such a plan?

It was probably scary to simply trust by faith, she had been disappointed many times, she didn't want to hurt again, so she laughed.

Sarah's probably not alone in her fear.

We have had those kinds of fears. Many times.

You know God is calling you to do something, but the thought of actually obeying God in the matter freaks you out, It scares you. You know what it's like to fail. You don't feel you have what it takes. Could God do this?

Would He do it with you?

Do you Walk by faith, or laugh at the plan?

Do you trust or run ?

Do you Face fears or fold to them ?

Faith believes something that you cannot see.

The unseen or unknown is scary, so fear is a natural reaction to God's plan for your life. God calls us to the unknown. God is always calling us to the unknown. His ways are not our ways. His plans are usually larger than we have imagined. God calls us to walk by faith, facing something we cannot see, and that in turn brings fear into our hearts.

So, what's the fear that will require faith for you to accomplish?

Perhaps there is a better question:

If you are obedient, what kind of glory will God receive through your faith in Him?

Don't laugh at what you sense God is calling you to do. God calls people to tasks beyond our ability or understanding everyday! Maybe this is your day!

Try Walking closer to faith than fear
